Interfaith Unity Initiative

All faiths have strong calls to care for the poor and have long traditions of supporting decent shelter. Through the Interfaith Unity Initiative, we will demonstrate the power of good that unites all faiths.

Background Information

Since 2004, Bradley Hills Presbyterian Church, Bethesda Jewish Congregation, and the Idara-e-Jaferia Mosque have been holding joint worship services and discussion sessions, celebrating holidays together and working together on community service projects. Several years ago, they partnered with Habitat for Humanity Metro Maryland to establish an Interfaith Unity Build with a goal of bringing multiple faith groups together to work on a Habitat project and promote interfaith unity. Twenty-three congregations successfully came together to raise $50,000 and volunteer hundreds of hours towards the construction of a home at the Maple Hill community in Gaithersburg MD.

About HFHMM

Who We Are

Habitat for Humanity Metro Maryland (HFHMM) was founded in 1982 as a private, ecumenical Christian, nonprofit organization by a small group of dedicated volunteers looking to create homeownership opportunities for low-income families and break the cycle of poverty for future generations. We are called by our faith in God to serve families in need with generosity, humility and love. God's love extends to all, which is why we welcome people of all races, faith backgrounds and beliefs to join us in the common goal of providing and preserving affordable

What We Do

Through the homeownership model, we partner with low-income families to give them a hand up and not a hand out in their quest for simple, decent and affordable housing. First, we build new homes and rehab foreclosed properties throughout Montgomery and Prince George's Counties. Secondly, we work with current homeowners to weatherize or repair their homes, removing blight and alleviating critical health, life and safety issues. At HFHMM, we are not only committed to meeting the housing needs of our community, we are also committed to providing residents with the full range of supportive services to help them maintain their homes and thrive.

What We Have Done

Since our founding, we have provided innovative affordable housing solutions for over 600 men, women, and children through a combination of new construction, rehabilitation of foreclosed properties, weatherization, and minor or critical home repairs and by the end of 2016 we will have issued over $11 million in zero interest mortgages to qualified partner families. Additionally, we engage approximately 4,000 volunteers annually to help fulfill our mission, whether through service on the board, work on our construction projects, serving at the ReStore, or participation on a committee.

Serving those in need.
A universal call.
