How Habitat for Humanity Works

Through volunteer labor and donations of money and materials, Habitat builds, repairs and rehabilitates decent houses alongside our Habitat homebuyers.

Habitat is not a Giveaway Program

In addition to paying monthly mortgage payments, homeowners invest hundreds of hours of their own labor - what we call “sweat equity” – into building their Habitat house and the houses of others. Habitat houses are sold to partner families at no profit and are financed with affordable loans.

How Habitat Partner Families are Selected

Habitat partner families are chosen based on their need, their willingness to become partners in the program and their ability to repay the loan. We follow a nondiscriminatory policy of family selection. We are an Equal Housing Opportunity Lender.

Your Support of Habitat for Humanity Builds more Houses

Quality housing and homeownership have proven to have a positive effect on healthcare, education, crime, and our economy. By helping hardworking, income qualified families build and buy decent, affordable homes, you are not only impacting local families and their children, but you are making a difference throughout our community.
